

Senate Opposes Choice Of Oil Lease Counsel

Committee Considers Nominations Of Pomerene And Strawn By Coolidge

ORGANIZE FOR OPPOSITION

Take Up Cross Examination Of Denver Newspaper Man Connected With Case

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The Senate Oil committee still had before it Wednesday the increasingly troublesome nominations of Silas H. Strawn, of Chicago, and former Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, to serve as special counsel for the government in the court proceedings growing out of its inquiry, and in addition, continued its examination of J. Leo Stack, Denver oil man, who had contractual rights in claims in Teapot Dome.

The senate meanwhile held its first session since the statement by president Coolidge that he would not comply with the resolution adopted Monday advising him to demand the resignation of Secretary Denby who signed the naval reserve lease negotiated by Albert B. Fall as secretary of the interior.

The committee has considered the nominations of Mr. Strawn and Mr. Pomerene in executive session for several days and during that time a movement in opposition to their confirmation has taken such definite form as to indicate that an organized fight will be made against them in the senate, with Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, leader in the oil inquiry, one of their most vigorous opponents.

CAN'T BE CONFIRMED
Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, expressed the opinion late Tuesday, after Mr. Strawn had been questioned by the committee a second time that his nomination could not be confirmed because of "his corporate connections."

Mr. Strawn was questioned about his directorship in the First National bank of Chicago, and its affiliated First Savings and Trust bank after they had been described as "Standard Oil banks" during Tuesday's public hearings.

Before resuming its consideration of the nomination Wednesday, the committee took up the cross-examination of Mr. Stack, who testified Tuesday that soon after the leasing of the Teapot Dome to the Standard Oil company, he had information which convinced him that "he had faith, fraud and secret dealings" were involved in the transaction.

Stack also declared his association with George Creel, chairman of the committee on Education, in an attempt to obtain a lease on the Teapot Dome reserve, and his later agreement with Frederick G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver (Colorado) Post, which resulted finally, according to Bonfils' testimony recently, in an arrangement with Sinclair for the payment of $1,000,000 all told for Stack's claims.

HERRIN QUIET AS GUARDSMEN TAKE CONTROL

City Welcomes Camera Men Expected To Dispel Evil Reputation

By Associated Press
Herrin, Ill.—Quiet prevails in Williamsville, a dry resort town, the headquarters of Major General Milton J. Foreman, in command of the military, and citizens are calmly going about their business, singly and unarmored.

Scope of the order against firearms has included S. Glenn Young, K. K. Klan, and a number of others who were requested by Lieutenant Colonel C. F. Noonan, commanding troops in Herrin, to leave at home the two heavy calibre revolvers he has worn continually in his forays.

General Foreman said Tuesday night that the citizens had to expect the presence of the military, who were the trouble was the permitting of unauthorized people to conduct raids and other acts of law enforcement and that two factions had been causing the disturbances.

The coroners jury, inquiring into the shooting of the Caesar-Cagle, examined several witnesses Tuesday and were informed that the Cagle family desired that no more witnesses be called as they did not wish to divulge evidence before the trial of any persons indicted.

Herrin was alarmed Tuesday by a small army of camera men, sent by weekly news film companies. Their advent was hailed with gratification by James C. Baillie, president of the Rotary club, who said the pictures would help to create a better impression of Herrin, after the publicity it has received.

SPEAKER LAUDS BADGER DAIRIES

Country At Large Should Be Taught To Appreciate Wisconsin Milk Products

By Associated Press
Plymouth—Instead of the country at large thinking "politicians" whenever the name of Wisconsin is mentioned, it should be made to think "dairy products," diversified industry, power, and progress, declared John M. Kelley of Baraboo, speaking before the annual convention of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation here Wednesday.

The dairy industry of Wisconsin should be stressed before the world, Mr. Kelley said. "Wisconsin produces 75 per cent of the cheese of the United States—but who knows it?" Outside newspapers carry only stories of Wisconsin's politicians. It is high time that Wisconsin began to feature her industries instead of her politicians.

"We have learned how to produce but we have not learned how to sell. We suffer two-fold from this neglect—not only have we failed to establish a market, but we have permitted substitutes to capture the field."

By Associated Press
Oshkosh—According to information contained in a building journal published at Chicago, architects in that city have prepared plans for a large, modern and costly theater for Oshkosh. It was stated the structure would be a combination affair, costing about $700,000 and containing office suites as well as an opera house seating 2,200. Efforts to trace the enterprise to a definite source here failed to bring tangible results.

Support Of Denby Will Hurt Coolidge Chances

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Lincoln's birthday found the party founded by the great emancipator split in twain. President Coolidge can not command a majority of the United States Senate on an issue as close to his administration as the retention or dismissal of a member of his cabinet.

The coalition of insurgent Republicans and Democrats was sufficient to pass the resolution requesting the resignation of Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy, and it will be sufficient to pass other measures embarrassing to Mr. Coolidge's leadership.

Although the president has steadfastly maintained that he had nothing to do with the Teapot Dome controversy, and could not be held responsible for what happened even though he was an unofficial member of the Harding cabinet, and had as president of the senate, the de facto head of the oil leases, he is today involved in the affair from a political viewpoint. The Democrats and insurgent Republicans have put him in to the thing and henceforth he is on the defensive. As long as Edwin Denby remains in the cabinet, Mr. Coolidge must be the center of bombardment. The scene must be the question of competency to hold office is raised.

Denby not suspected
Nowhere in the senate debate was there the slightest intimation that Secretary Denby was guilty of complicity in the financial transactions which are said to have influenced the action of former Secretary Albert B. Fall. The senate believes Mr. Denby innocent, but incompetent. That's what the majority vote meant. That Mr. Denby should have permitted his name to be signed to the transfer of the oil reserves to the department of interior, is the premise on which the question of competency to hold office is based.

The president has taken Secretary Denby into his bosom. Months, possibly a whole year, will elapse before the special counsel appointed to investigate the case can possibly form its conclusions. Meanwhile, the political opposition to Mr. Coolidge will point out that he retains in his cabinet men who in the opinion of a majority of the United States Senate failed to do their duty by the government.

No longer is it a legal issue or a personal affair against Mr. Denby for he is personally well liked and popular.

It has become, instead, a political issue and in this the Democrats with the help of the insurgent Republicans have outmaneuvered Mr. Coolidge. The president is on the defensive now and must find some way to prove that what Secretary Denby did was justified or else call for the resignation of that official.

FINANCIER HINTS AT GRAFT IN SALE OF HARDING PAPER

Frank A. Vanderlip Says Fall Might Have Incriminated High Officials

By Associated Press
Washington—Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, will be summoned before the senate oil committee for examination on the basis of statements made in his address Tuesday night at Ossining, N. Y.

"I think it is inevitable that Mr. Vanderlip will be called," said Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, after reading an account of Mr. Vanderlip's address. Other members of the committee expressed a similar view.

The references about which he will be particularly questioned were those relating to the sale of a certain Marion newspaper.

Ossining, N. Y.—In the course of an arraignment of public officials, past and present, Frank A. Vanderlip, financier, in a Rotary club address Tuesday night criticized the sale of a certain Marion newspaper.

"A certain Marion newspaper sold for $550,000, when it was not worth for every one that it was not worth half that sum," he said.

"Two young men of no financial standing purchased it. Everybody in Washington, including the newspaper correspondents, knows this but no one wants to look under the edge of a shroud."

Then the banker whirled into the Teapot Dome scandal. He attacked Senator Walsh's associates on the senate investigating committee saying several of them were undesirable investigators of any moral question.

"Mr. Adoo testified," he went on, "that he was only acting as a reputable attorney for a reputable client in the oil matter, but like any boy with stolen loot he dropped that client immediately after the client had testified before the investigating committee."

"The senate did not go further in investigating Secretary Fall because Fall was ready to peach and what he would have said would have gone into high places. They didn't dare."

GANGSTER IS FOUND SLAIN IN ST. LOUIS

Alleged Mail Robber Picked Up In Cutter Shortly Before Scheduled Trial

By Associated Press
St. Louis, Mo.—The body of Edward Linehan, 19 years old, reputed member of the "Egan" gang and mail robbery suspect, was found early Wednesday morning lying in a gutter in the northwestern part of the city.

The body, neatly covered with an automobile robe, was found by two policemen. Fresh automobile tracks were discovered near the scene and police expressed the belief he had been murdered elsewhere and his body brought to the spot where it was found.

Linehan, with Ray Renard and "Red" Smith, alleged police characters, was to have appeared in the federal court at Springfield, Ill. Wednesday to answer a charge of having robbed a postal messenger at Poca-hontas, Ill., of $40,000. The case had been continued until Monday however. Linehan's slaying followed closely upon a police drive against criminals and their associates, and the placing of fourteen police captains on probation for 30 days with orders to "clean up" their districts.

TRAPPER IS JAILED AS MURDER SUSPECT

Marionette—Thomas Doane, a trapper of Big Day is being held without bail in the Marquette jail charged with the murder of Edward Conners, a local farmer, who was shot with 3 bullet wounds in his body.

Doane, who admits that he was in Conners' company a few minutes before he found the latter's prostrate body on the floor, contends that Conners committed suicide, shooting himself with his own revolver.

According to Doane's story, both men had been imbibing "moonshine" whiskey to the extent that Conners had become intoxicated.

At the coroner's inquest the jury returned a verdict that Conners came to his death "at the hands of unknown persons." The jury did not charge Doane with the crime.

Gold Effigy Is Found In Tut's Tomb

By Associated Press
Luxor—The correspondent of the Associated Press was the first newspaperman admitted Wednesday to view the gorgeous mummy case of Tut-Ankh-Amen, which was disclosed Tuesday by the raising of the massive lid of the sarcophagus.

At the first view of this wonderful bizarre golden coffin with the face, shoulders, breast and arms of the Pharaoh standing out in bold relief on the metal, one realized that this discovery was indeed an event in the annals of Egyptology.

Nothing has ever been found in Egypt before resembling this colossal effigy of gold with its strangely natural, oddly captivating face and supreme dignity of line. The only parallel one can call to mind is the great stone effigy carved on the lid of the sarcophagus of Merenptah, the reputed Pharaoh of the exodus.

It now seems clear that to the effigy of Merenptah whose sarcophagus lies in his tomb a scant hundred yards from that of Tut-Ankh-Amen, and thence regarded as unique in Egypt, merely represents in stone the habitual form of the mummy case of Egypt's kings.

The eight of the sheets of gold gleaming on the mummy case of Tut-Ankh-Amen tells its own tale of the reward that awaited the enterprise of the ancient tomb robbers and readily explains why all the regulars of Egypt's old rulers, only Tut-Ankh-Amen's has been inviolate.

Blame Missed Orders For Railroad Wreck

Freight Train Crew Is Not Told Of Order Holding It At Kaukauna Until Passenger Train Passed

"Meet 131 at South Kaukauna," five words which never reached the ears of the crew in charge of freight train No. 48 of the Ashland division of the Chicago and Northwestern railway were responsible for its head-on collision about noon Tuesday three miles southeast of Kaukauna with a westbound passenger train.

Train men and passengers who were injured were reported to be recovering Wednesday. John McCool, engineer of the passenger train, was holding his own at a Green Bay hospital and the same was true of Frank Flaherty of Green Bay, fireman on the passenger train. The others were less seriously injured and all but Neil McCully, engineer on the freight train, were able to leave the hospitals after their wounds were dressed. McCool suffered the fracture of several ribs and may be confined for several days.

ORDERS CHANGED
Orders had been given the crew of the freight, to meet the passenger train at Dundas. A telephone message arriving at South Kaukauna a short time later instructed Conductor L. C. McDermott to hold his train there until No. 131 arrived. For some reason the later order was not delivered to the crew and the freight proceeded toward Dundas, expecting to meet the other there. The passenger had been released at Dundas in the meantime, and with both trains under way it was impossible to stop them in time to avert the collision.

Both trains, the freight carrying a long string of cars loaded with pulpwood, were pulled by two locomotives. They approached a curve about three miles out of Kaukauna, and the freight put on more steam to negotiate a grade. The passenger train was making up lost time.

LABOR PREMIER PLEASES PARIS WITH HIS TALK

British Press Continues Support But Criticizes Platiitudes

By Associated Press
Paris—Prime Minister MacDonald's speech in the British house of commons Tuesday created a most favorable impression in French official circles. The speech was received particularly warmly Wednesday that the British premier seems to share the optimism of President Millerand as to the prospect of a final clearing of the international atmosphere in Europe this year.

It is rumored here both Premier MacDonald and President Millerand base their confidence in an improved situation on the progress made by the international committee of experts, inquiring into Germany's resources with a view to stabilization of the currency and balancing of the budget. It is said at the foreign office that the reports received concerning the work of the experts are most satisfactory.

CRITICIZE PLATIITUDES
London—The general good will extended to the Labor government by the London press is not withdrawn as a result of Premier MacDonald's statement of policy in the house of commons Tuesday but his declaration does not escape adverse criticism.

The comment that the premier dealt in platitudes and said much that was fair, but that he might have said a few more things that were not so, is a sharp dissent with his attitude toward the action of the new health minister, John Wheatley, in giving the popular guardians a rather free hand distribution of relief to the unemployed, thus reversing the policy pursued by his predecessor. Otherwise the editorials are mostly indulgent.

17 SLAIN, 20 HURT IN SEPARATIST WAR

Rhine Rebels Barricade Selves In Government Building And Attack Crowd

By Associated Press
Berlin—Fighting between Separatists and inhabitants of Rhineland in the Bavarian Palatinate Tuesday night resulted in the killing of 17 persons and the wounding of 20, according to dispatches received from Pirmasens Wednesday morning.

The casualties occurred during fighting for the possession of the government building, which was eventually set on fire. Of those killed, fourteen were Separatists.

The accounts of the incident as published here are somewhat conflicting but it appears that 40 Separatists barricaded themselves in the government building from which they fired at three bombs against the crowd. In attempting to eject them, the crowd sprayed benzine on the building for the purpose of burning it. When the lower part was afire the Separatists ceased shooting and begged for mercy.

M'ADOO PLACES PARTY INTEREST AHEAD OF SELF

Democratic Candidate Calls Conference Of Leaders At Chicago

SEEKS INDEX OF OPINION

Wants Farmers, Laborers And All Others Invited To Pass On Availability

Washington, D. C.—The question of William G. McAdoo's availability for the Democratic presidential nomination is to be put up to a conference of state leaders fostering his candidacy to be held at Chicago at his own suggestion.

In a letter to David L. Roswell of Ohio, campaign manager in charge of his national headquarters at Chicago, Mr. McAdoo Tuesday night asked him to call the conference to determine whether his service as counsel in the handling of the Mexican interests of E. L. Doheny "is prejudicial to the cause of Progressive Democracy." He also recommended that "Pro-Progressives outside the Democratic party, representatives of Labor, representatives of the Farmers and any others you may think advisable, be invited to participate "in order that we may get as far as possible a true index of public opinion."

WOULD WITHDRAW GLADLY
Mr. McAdoo declared that if the conference should decide that "an honorable professional service rendered by me to a client, but having no relation whatever to the oil leases now under investigation by the senate committee" had made him unavailable for the nomination, "he would gladly withdraw and fight as a private in the ranks. "If on the other hand, the conference thinks he should lead, he "will do so with all the power that is in me."

My political life," he asserted, "is of no consequence as compared with the cause of the Progressive Democracy."

OSHKOSH FACES BEER SHORTAGE

That is the statement made by W. E. Barber, of Milwaukee, deputy federal prohibition commissioner. Renewal of the permit of that brewery has been refused by the Milwaukee office headed by C. M. Perry under whom Mr. Barber is serving. Conditions regarding the sale of such beer was brought out in an address Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church before the conference of dry leaders of Winnebago co.

Thence they were hurried to the Waldorf-Astoria, the impending darkness being "Nations" along the route with flares and photographers' flashlights. No Politics Nor Partisanship Will Be Permitted To Influence Verdict

OPPOSES SOLDIER BONUS

President Leaves District Of Columbia First Time Since Inauguration

By Associated Press
New York—The country today has the definite promise of President Coolidge that there will be immediate, adequate and unshrinking prosecutions, criminal and civil in the oil land leasing disclosures.

Speaking Tuesday night at the National Association of Republican clubs in Lincoln a lively 15-minute dinner during his first visit to New York since he entered the White House, Mr. Coolidge declared he was intent on the enforcement of our laws without fear or favor.

or no matter who is hurt or what the consequences."

"In this effort there will be no politics, no partisanship," he asserted, referring to the contemplated oil lease prosecution.

"It will be speedy. It will be just. I am a Republican, but I cannot on that account shield any one because he is a Republican. I am a Republican, but I cannot on that account prosecute any one because he is a Democrat."

The president's references to the senate investigating committee's disclosures and his attitude toward them aroused the greatest applause of any of the declarations he made in his address which was heard by 2,000 men and women, guests of the Republican club.

ASKS AID FOR FARMERS

He also referred to the agricultural situation in the north and asked the aid of the federal government. Much of his address, however, was devoted to a discussion of tax revision with a reiteration of his support of the Mellon bill "without material alteration and compromise."

The chief executive presented an appeal to the country to support him in pressing for passage of the Mellon bill, saying that "under the present law, 'make their wishes known to the congress without regard to party, this bill will not pass.'"

Particular emphasis was placed on the proposal to reduce surtaxes to a maximum of 25 per cent despite the word carried to Mr. Coolidge by Republican house leaders last week that such a reduction would not be granted by the house.

EUROPE NEEDS AMERICA

The Democratic Garner bill was branded by Mr. Coolidge as "impossible in practice" and "political in theory." One statement made by the president without elaboration was that "any settlement of the European situation would call for a European funding and financing which would be of doubtful success without American participation."

Mr. Coolidge reiterated his opposition to the bonus, declaring it would result in inflation and higher prices and adding that "a few months of good times are worth more than the rescue of such a reduction would not be granted by the house."

CHARGE VIOLATION OF DANCE LAW AT RAINBOW GARDENS

County Board Told That Grand Chute Chairman Refuses Dance Permits

Rainbow Garden, located on the Little Chute road, is temporarily closed by order of F. A. Grant, town chairman of Grand Chute, upon complaints filed in the reports of his dance hall inspectors, Jacob F. Demerath and Edward Kaphingst.

The reports charge the management with keeping the establishment open after the legal closing hour of 1 o'clock in the morning and also charge drunkenness and improper dancing within the building.

Permits for operation of a dance hall have been refused since last Saturday. The matter was submitted by Supervisor Grant to the county board at its opening session Tuesday afternoon and after some discussion it was referred to the ordinance committee.

The committee, consisting of Supervisors Frank Appleton, Harley Heath and E. P. Spoehr, announced that it would hold a meeting at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon not only to hear both sides of the dispute, but also to listen to any suggestions or regard to amendments to the county dance hall ordinance that was adopted last fall.

CALL INSPECTORS

Inspectors Demerath and Kaphingst were called before the board Tuesday afternoon to state what they found to warrant closing of the road house. Demerath continued until 1:08 and that the hall has been open as late as 2 o'clock, the manager maintaining that he had a right as a restaurateur to keep it open. The inspector considered the building a dance hall and wanted the building to be closed at 1 o'clock even though dancing stopped at that time. It is said that a cover charge is made for use of the tables and that patrons order what they want to eat or drink and also dance if they are so disposed.

On several occasions, Demerath said, he found couples who were under the influence of liquor. On the night of Feb. 20 at 1 o'clock he said, a woman in very scant attire stepped on the floor and gave an exhibition of vulgar dancing.

REFUSED PERMITS

The establishment was closed a few nights as a result of the recent storm. On Saturday, Louis Schreder, the manager, applied for a permit, but Mr. Grant decided not to issue any more permits until he learned from the county board as to what should be done in the matter.

Demerath was questioned by board members on how he knew people were under the influence of liquor. He replied that the persons were not walking straight and smelled of moonshine. He was sure that the time was 1:06 when dancing stopped one night because his watch and wall clock showed the same time. Kaphingst said he had found dancing to stop at 1 o'clock, but that the building remained open longer than that.

The manager of Rainbow Gardens was asked by Supervisor Grant to appear before the board Tuesday, but he was not present. Supervisor F. J. Hayward of Appleton was of the opinion that dance hall inspectors should be backed up by the county board. It appears that all the dance hall inspectors now serving have only temporary appointments and are not under bonds. A complete personnel of inspectors is to be appointed at this session.

HINT AT CHANGES

Several changes in the county ordinance will be proposed. It was intimated by George F. Fletler, county chairman, and for that reason he referred the dispute to the ordinance committee that it might consider it with the proposed amendments. Supervisor Anton Jansen of Little Chute

3 CIRCUIT JUDGES HOLD COURT HERE

Judge Werner, Crosby And Beglinger Listen To Three Cases

Three circuit court judges were sitting in cases at the courthouse Monday and Tuesday. Judge Edgar V. Werner, Shawano, of this district heard a divorce case and a civil suit against the Aid Association for Lutherans. Monday, and then left for Green-co to hear a case there. Judge E. W. Crosby of Neillsville Tuesday presided in the suit brought by the local lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks against the city of Appleton. Judge Fred Beglinger of Oshkosh Monday sat in the case of the Citizens National bank vs. H. A. Ott et al in which a motion was made to include new defendants.

The Elks club is suing the city for $1,037, which it is asserted was collected by the city in 1922 illegally as taxes. The lodge, represented by Attorneys Mark Catlin and Heber Peikoy, claims exemption from taxes on account of being a benevolent organization and asks for an injunction restraining the city from making such collections. The city is being represented by Theodore Berg, city attorney, and Ryan and Cary, as counsel.

Inclusion of several new defendants is asked in the case of Citizens National bank vs. H. A. Ott and ten other defendants, in which the bank asks stockholders to make good on promissory notes of the now defunct Reliance Motor Truck company.

47 CHESTER WHITE HOGS CONSIGNED TO SALE HERE FRIDAY

Opportunity For Farmers To Improve Herds By Acquiring High-Grade Animals

BY W. F. WINSEY

At 12:30 Friday, Feb. 15, the Outagamie County Chester White Breeders' association will offer 47 head of purebred gilts and sows at a public sale at Dr. Madsen's pavilion, Washington-st. Pedigree will go with each animal sold.

The price of hogs in the general market has been uniformly low the past season and as a result the low price has had a tendency to decrease the number of hogs usually found on the farms at this season of the year. But notwithstanding this condition and the cause of it, there is no animal on the farm that hooks up as well with the dairy industry and makes it pay as the hog does and excepting an occasional fluctuation in the market due most often to an alleged overproduction, the hog can be depended upon, comparing on year with another, to give his owner a good profit above the cost of care and feed.

KEEPS UP HERDS

Considering that the hog is the producer of one of the staple foods, the shrewd farmer will not permit the size of his herd to decrease on account of a temporary low profit made on hogs the past season nor permit the breeding of his hogs to deteriorate.

Breeders of purebred hogs say that there is no hog on the farm that takes on weight more rapidly and responds more promptly to the well balanced ration than does the high grade or the purebred hog.

The public sale makes it possible for farmers who wish to improve their herds by the introduction of one or more purebred animals to see the best specimens in one enclosure and compare them, the one with another. As a large number of purebred herds of Outagamie-co will be represented in the coming sale and as the Chester White breed is widely and favorably known, the attendance of hog fanciers at the sale gives every evidence of being a record-breaker.

Greater Representation for Appleton on County Board.

MORE SUPERVISORS FOR APPLETON

The city of Oshkosh last week increased the number of its wards from fourteen to sixteen because it felt the city's representation on the county board of supervisors was not commensurate with its population. A year or so ago it increased the number of its wards from thirteen to fourteen.

Green Bay, a few years ago, doubled the number of its wards and it now has 20 representatives on the county board. Green Bay has approximately 35,000 people and Oshkosh claims about the same population.

Appleton, with a population of 23,000, has only six supervisors, one for every 3,866 people. In Green Bay there is a supervisor for each 1,700 population and in Oshkosh the ratio is a supervisor for every 2,180 people.

Fond du Lac, which is credited with about 25,000 people, has 16 wards, giving it a representative on the county board for each 1,600 population.

Appleton's representation on the county board of supervisors, when compared with other Fox river valley cities, is entirely out of proportion. It has been suggested that the number of wards be increased to twelve—double the present number—so that the number of supervisors also can be increased. If this is done Appleton will have a supervisor for each 1,900 population.

Our city can secure this additional voice in the control of the county of which Appleton is the most important unit if the city council will act. There is no necessity for waiting longer to investigate the legal aspects of the proposal. The common council can satisfy a popular wish if it will at once begin consideration of ways and means of increasing the number of supervisors on the county board.

THE FLAG INCIDENT AND GERMAN RELIEF

A belated but appropriate apology has been sent to the United States by President Ebert of Germany expressing regret over the blunder committed by the foreign office in Berlin and the German embassy in Washington on occasion of Mr. Wilson's death. Although it is clear that the foreign minister deliberately offered an affront to the American people, it is well that this apology has come in. There was no excuse whatever, and no extenuating circumstances, for the action of the embassy, and the German government must take full responsibility. The people will, however, accept President Ebert's apology in the right spirit, and if it is followed by withdrawal of the offending ambassador, the unpleasantness will be fairly well cleaned up.

The unfortunate part of the incident is that the display of official German malice toward Mr. Wilson only reacts to the injury of Germany herself. Nothing the German government can do or say can injure Mr. Wilson. It was, therefore, both silly and futile to offend the people of the United States by such a display, which cannot fail to revive some of the old feeling in this country against Germany, but the saddest consequence is the danger that it may affect adversely the prospects of a German loan and the collection of a fund for hungry German children.

We think, however, that American sympathy for the starving children of Germany and American generosity toward them will not be interrupted. The American people can differentiate between blundering German officials and the appeal of children who are in nowise responsible for their acts. Our humanitarian duty toward Germany is not lessened by what occurred at Berlin or at its embassy in Washington. Our quarrel was not with the German people, as was so well stated by Mr. Wilson. We wish Germany no evil, in fact we wish her restored to a land of peace, plenty and enlightened government. Mr. Wilson wished all of this and did all that he could to bring it about. His last official act with reference to Germany was to relieve its people of want and suffering.

Because the old-school of diplomacy seems to prevail in Berlin, we should not lose heart. German citizens in New York writing in the Times describe Mr. Wilson as Germany's "greatest friend and benefactor," as the "great conciliator" who stood between Germany and her utter ruin, as the "champion of all humanity." In time, when future generations of Germany read history impartially and come to know of Mr. Wilson's full part in the making of both war and peace, they will see him in the same light. We can afford to wait for this verdict, and in the meantime we should not waver in our magnanimity toward suffering German children. We should be wrong and unworthy and petty if we did, and two wrongs never right a wrong.

WILSON AND THE RHINELAND

A few days ago a diplomatic sensation was caused by a cable dispatch from London to the effect that Mr. Lloyd George had stated in an interview that the late President Wilson was a party to a secret agreement with Clemenceau on Rhineland occupation during the Paris peace conference. The information was given out by a Mr. Spender, close friend of the former prime minister. Every person acquainted intimately with events at the peace conference, as well as with the character of Mr. Wilson, recognized at once the absurdity of such a statement.

M. Clemenceau, in commenting on the interview said: "Show me a secret treaty signed by Wilson and Clemenceau and I will undertake immediately to pay the total reparations bill." As soon as Mr. Lloyd George could get himself into print, he said: "To describe this agreement as a 'secret compact' between the late President Wilson and M. Clemenceau is ridiculous. President Wilson, I need hardly say, acted with perfect loyalty." The British foreign office also disavowed the charge, and Premier MacDonald, both by written message and by envoy, offered an apology to France, and characterized the accusation for what it was entitled.

Ray Stannard Baker, in his book "Woodrow Wilson and World Settlement," which is the official publication of Mr. Wilson's part in the Paris conference, gives the exact facts with reference to the Rhineland settlement. They agree entirely with those of M. Tardieu. They agree with Mr. Lloyd George's explanation, and with the statements of the foreign offices of France and England. There was nothing whatever secret about the understanding or any phase of it.

The incident only serves to bring to mind the fact that Mr. Wilson's participation in the peace conference was altogether to his credit, that he resisted allied designs upon territory to the uttermost, and that he did everything in his power to mitigate the harshness of the terms imposed upon Germany. He was, in truth, the one and the only real friend that Germany had at that gathering of victorious nations.

TODAY'S POEM

By Berton Braley

"LOOK IN THY HEART AND WRITE"

Well, I have looked in my heart
Seeking a thought to write,
Hoping to get a start,
Trying with all my might;
Searching my heart with care,
Hunting a theme or two—
All that I'm finding there
Is you!

"Look in thy heart and write"
Sounded like an easy scheme,
Yet would my songs grow trite
Sounding a single theme,
Praising your loveliness—
Nothing I'd rather do
But others might wish for less
Of you!

The world is a place immense
Filled with a busy throng,
A bard with a bit of sense
Would never lack theme for song,
It's easy enough to doubt
The subjects are far from few.
But all I can think about
Is you!

THE LOW HANGING STOMACH

The deep, lank, wildwood surrounding the problem of the fallen stomach has been partially cleared away in the two preceding numbers in this series about the low lying stomach, and now we have only to add a few drizzletory remarks of a silly sort and call it a day. My notion of an ideal day's work—using "words" is the throwing of a few harmless remarks here, answering four or five hundred letters, and then when the day is over, asking myself whether I've equipped any poor chap with any symptoms inadvertently in the rush of work. When sure I haven't, I'm tolerably happy.

The new school of medical thought as regards "fallen stomach," which I am careful to ally myself, holds that the majority of healthy adults have very low hung stomachs, 50 per cent of them according to X-ray evidence having stomachs which dip into the pelvis that so long as the stomach and colon are freely movable, and is not fixed, or adherent at any point to prevent natural squirming or peristaltic motion which is so essential in the whole digestive process, it is of no consequence whether these organs lie high or low and there is no justification in the diagnosis of gastropnoia (sagging stomach) or colopnoia (sagging colon) or visceropnoia (general sagging). Least of all can there be justification for an operation which is undertaken to lift the stomach and colon into the place where the old masters thought they should have been.

But we of the new school are nothing if not cautious and logical and liberal minded about this question. We do not for a moment doubt that the happiest results are obtained from the line of bed rest, postural, dietary, physical and hygienic treatment which has come into general use for cases of visceropnoia or fallen stomach. We merely suggest a different explanation for the benefits accruing from such treatment. We suggest that the prolonged rest in bed with the larding up process increases the intra-abdominal pressure and wipes out the tendency to a vacuum there; that the abdominal belts and other supports complete a similar effect in the stomach and colon; that the general and abdominal exercises which are gradually introduced after several weeks of rest cure in bed increase the tone of the whole musculature, including that of the stomach and intestines, whose tone is poor in the condition called visceropnoia. That the falling or sagging downward of the stomach or colon is not the important factor in the causation of the symptoms. We submit, by the fact that X-ray study of the case after recovery shows the organs in about the same dreadfully slumped position they were when the patient was a veritable wraith.

Visceropnoia goes back to our ancestors, our very remote ancestors, but that is as far as I dare go. I do not blame our ancestors, though. We're to blame ourselves for getting so proud and dignified and staying upon our hind feet all the time and worse on the hinder part of our hind feet, and still worse on little stiffs under the hinder part of our hind feet. To counteract this sad error in evolution I have the temerity to recommend for everybody at least a dozen somersaults on a mat or rug, and for all young people not only forward but backward somersaults.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Biting The Nails

Is it true that fingernails have been found in the appendix when the person had the habit of biting the nails? What are the first and most certain symptoms of appendicitis?—Mrs. N. H.

Answer—It would not be very remarkable to find bits of fingernails in a diseased appendix, but when foreign bodies are found in the appendix it is a mistake to assume they have caused the appendicitis. Usually they have gained entrance to the appendix because the lumen or opening into the appendix is relaxed or enlarged by disease. In most cases of acute appendicitis acute pain felt in the vicinity of the naval and often attributed to a mythical "indigestion" is complained of.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE WORLD

BY CHARLES F. STEWART

Woodrow Wilson is dead, aged 68—not so very old. His illness, or rather breakdown, dates back to the latter part of his term as president, when he succumbed to the tremendous strain of office, aggravated by problems of the war and the still more trying experiences of the peace conference.

FALL WON'T TALK

Declaring he didn't have to incriminate himself, Albert B. Fall refused to figure as a witness in the Teapot Dome-Eik Hills oil inquiry. The senatorial investigators called him before them, but that was all he said.

DENBY AND DAUGHTERY

Secretary of the Navy Denby is blamed bitterly by political opponents, for letting the oil lands go. It's asserted he hadn't even a right to do so, without Congressional approval. He refused, however, to resign under fire. Besides, he says the government got a good bargain and he'd do the same thing again. President Coolidge beat the Senate to a resolution demanding that the investigation be taken out of Attorney General Daugherty's hands; he chose T. W. Gregory, President Wilson's attorney general, and S. H. Strawn, a Republican lawyer, to take up the work.

DEMOCRATS MENTIONED

But a little later the White House issued a statement indicating Gregory had been employed by Dolney since leaving the cabinet; so he wouldn't do and ex-Senator Pomeroy was named in his place. Furthermore, Dolney now testifies he has paid $20,000 for legal advice to the law firm W. G. McDoo was a member of. He says another of his lawyers was the late Franklin K. Lane, Wilson's secretary of the interior. He adds that, indirectly, he has employed Lindsey M. Garrison, a Wilson secretary of war; likewise George Cress, director of government publicity during the war. All this was after the men referred to had retired from office. Finally, Denby's friends declare he had, too, a right to lease the oil lands without Congressional approval—that Josephus Daniels established the precedent when he was Wilson's secretary of navy.

WETS AND DRIES

New York State Superintendent W. H. Anderson of the Anti-Saloon League has been convicted of third degree forgery (which means "fixing" account books to hide a theft). He was charged he took $25,000 of the league's money. According to his story it was his own cash he loaned to the league. Asked how he got so much and how it was spent, he said it was a present from one John T. King and that Henry Mann spent it for dry publicity, but no such persons as King or Mann could be found. For third degree forgery the punishment is up to five years in prison, but Anderson appealed.

Q. Why can't scorched woolen goods be restored as cotton can? J. P. S. A. The Department of Agriculture says that wool and silk materials are disintegrated at a lower temperature than cotton and linens, and therefore committee might suggest but Poincare's influence wanes.

Since France seized the Ruhr (she did so at Poincare's order), French money has increased heavily. French money is worth much less than it was, French living costs have risen, French taxes must advance, no reparations are in sight. This has diminished French confidence in Poincare.

To give Germany some real money, Dawes aims to open a German gold bank. If it guarantees safety and good dividends, he thinks it will get Germans' private hoards. To help matters along, the German government has canceled the government's war debts, which it can do, since Germany raised her war funds mostly at home, not abroad.

Q. What were the outstanding accomplishments of President Taft's administration? D. B.

A. The important developments during the four years of President Taft's incumbency were: a Reform bill, 1908; the submission of constitutional amendments for the income tax and direct election of United States Senators.

Q. How many eclipses will there be during the present year? A. J. K. C.

A. In 1924 there will be five eclipses, three of the sun and two of the moon, none of which is visible in the United States. There will be total eclipse of the moon on February 20-21 and on August 14-15, and partial eclipses of the sun on March 5, July 31, and August 30.

Q. Has Helen Keller appeared in the movies? F. D. C.

A. She has appeared in a motion picture play "Deliverance" based on Miss Keller's autobiography.

Q. What size table and balls are used in a championship billiard match? N. A. C.

A. The table in a champion billiard match is a Brunswick-Balk Collander, 5 x 10 ft. The game is played with 2-3 inch ivory balls. All players use different weight cues, depending upon grip, size, etc. desired. All championship games are for 1,500 points, playing 500 points per night. A champion is subject to challenge every thirty days. Both "players" are for choice of first shot.

Q. What is meant by the expression, "Smoking Mary Warner"? J. K. L.

A. Marijuana, a Mexican smoking weed is sometimes known as "Mary Warner."

Q. What percentage of persons reported "missing" are ever found? N. K.

A. One metropolitan newspaper, which conducts a Missing Persons Department reports that in 1,250 cases in which aid was requested in finding missing persons, 100 inquiries were successful and that many persons were reunited with their relatives and friends. It is said, however, that this does not represent the total of the missing who are found as many of the responses are made, directly to the paper and the cases do not become public.

A WORD TO WOMEN

A hundred and twenty-one thousand women would comprise a vast army. Yet a canvass was recently made among more than that a number of women who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for feminine ailments. The result proved that ninety-eight out of every hundred reported benefit from its use. This is most remarkable evidence of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the ills of womanhood, and should influence every sick and ailing woman to try it.

Forecast for 1924." The debate on unemployment insurance follows. Both are topics which are occupying attention of business men these days and many are expected to reserve plates at the dinner.
Return postal cards attached to the notices are to be returned by Saturday if possible.

Putnam Speaks At New London Lions Club Meeting In Place Of Keller

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Attorney L. Hugo Keller of Appleton, who was to have been the speaker at the Lions club meeting Tuesday was unable to come due to an automobile accident while he was on the way to the depot at Appleton Junction to take the train for New London.

City Attorney Giles H. Putnam spoke in his place and gave a detailed history of the plans and preparations that had been carried out for issuing bonds by the school board as a means of obtaining funds to erect and equip a new high school building. The city was thwarted in this, however, by a decision of the attorney general that the school district was not a separate municipality from the city, with power to issue bonds and levy taxes.

Dr. J. Monsted, a member of the school board, also spoke voicing the disappointment of the board of education to find that it could not proceed with erection of the high school without further delay, after purchasing the site and completing plans and specifications.

The committee will present a course of studies at the next meeting of the club for its decision. Monday's program was devoted to the state budget of Wisconsin. Mrs. C. D. Feathers discussed the progress of budgetary legislation in Wisconsin and pointed out the good and the bad features of the present system. Mrs. E. W. WOODWARD LAUDS DE MOLAY BOYS AT CHURCH SERVICE

Young Men's Fraternity Attends
Special Program In Congregational Church

Kaukauna—Considerable interest was apparent in the large crowd which attended the first of a series of church services for the Order of De Molay and other fraternal organizations held Sunday evening in First Congregational church. The second service will be held next Sunday in First Methodist church. Several members of the Appleton chapter of De Molay were present at the first program.

Rev. Daniel Woodward, who delivered the address of the evening declared "The Order of De Molay is a 100 per cent American and Christian fraternity." He said this opening of a series of De Molay services, coming just one week after the death of our War President, Woodrow Wilson, was most fitting regardless of personal political feelings relative to his administration. The speaker declared the Order of De Molay stood for the three great lines of thought contained in the three topics: Parents service, Lincoln service and Washington service.

Mr. Woodward declared the Order of De Molay is not anti-Catholic, anti-Jew, anti-Negro or anti-parochial school or anything else which was legally right under the constitution of the state and national government. He said its name was the name of the heroic martyr of Free Masonry, Grand Master De Molay of the old order of Knights Templars who died in 1314. The speaker declared the Order of De Molay stood for forward looking American fraternal principals for Protestant young men between the ages of 16 and 21.

High School

Kaukauna—Work in oratory and declamation is being considered now in Kaukauna high school. About 25 have signed up and are choosing sections, aided by Miss Ethelyn Hanagan and Miss Almada Johnson, English teachers in charge of the work. Interest has been thoroughly stirred up and efforts are being made to enlist many more students in oratory and declamation.

A number of elocution contests will be held within the school to choose those best fitted to represent the institution in the league. The fact that the student body is divided into three groups offers a fine opportunity to conduct contests among students of equal age. According to the plan, preliminary contests will be held among aspirants in each of the two assembly rooms and in the library among the seniors. After eliminations in those contests the winners will compete with the winners in the other assembly rooms. It is hoped that the plan will encourage more persons to take up the work and will in the end automatically find the students best suited to represent the school. The first contest is expected to take place within three weeks.

The War on Waste

Waste is the result of misdirected energy. It is like dirt—matter out of place.

The history of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) success may be summed up in two words "Industrial Housewifery" which is another way of saying "Eliminating Waste."

In a big organization such as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) there are innumerable opportunities to waste time, effort and material.

By intensified organization, by providing proper facilities, abundant raw materials, pleasant working conditions, and by encouraging initiative—the Company makes it possible for every man in its employ to develop the best there is in him and to conclusively prove his worth by his achievements.

Through intensive study and extensive research and experiments, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has found ways to recover more than a score of useful products from waste—products that fill a definite place in the commercial or domestic affairs of mankind.

Time was when gasoline was waste in the petroleum industry. Today, it is the major product.

Perhaps the outstanding example of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) achievements, in eliminating waste, is in the increased yield of gasoline per barrel of crude made possible by processes discovered and developed in its laboratories.

This achievement is the greater because of the imperative urge for more gasoline.

In 1918 there were 6,146,617 cars and trucks registered in the United States. In 1922 there were 12,239,114—or an increase of nearly 100%.

In 1918 the industry produced 326 million barrels of crude, as against 501 million barrels in 1922—an increase of only 53% plus.

Statistics show that while less than 10 gallons of gasoline were recovered per barrel of crude in 1918 that the industry increased the yield to more than 12 gallons per barrel in 1922.

This increased yield was due largely to the process as developed by this Company, and without such an increased yield the price of gasoline unquestionably would be higher.

Thus does the war on waste, waged so intensively by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), redound to the lasting benefit of mankind and also enable the Management of this Company to give a satisfactory accounting of its stewardship to the stockholders now numbering 45,286, more than 11,000 of whom are employees.

Do You Know How Fine this New Car Really Is?

THE new Cleveland is the sort of car that logically and irresistibly attains to a position of dominant leadership.

We urge you to approach it with an open mind. There are no precedents by which it can be judged.

It represents a distinctly new and original attainment in production of moderately priced sixes. It is the first and only instance where every element of perfect motoring has been combined in a car which persons of average income can purchase and maintain without a feeling of extravagance.

With a beauty of the smartest and most appealing variety, it combines unfailing dependability and startling qualities of performance.

For those who have never driven this newest Cleveland, we predict a sensation of profound delight, since it provides an enchanting flexibility and a masterful, high grade capacity never before revealed by any car of its type.

Unless you see and drive the new Cleveland, the moderation of its price may prove deceptive.

Hence we strongly urge you to withhold all judgement until you have had a demonstration. For until you do, you can never know what a notable achievement this new car really represents.

Devote Whole Week To Cutting Mail Losses

Postmaster Wants Cooperation
Of Public During Better
Mailing Week

Since the days of Benjamin Franklin, every postmaster-general and practically every local postmaster has found occasion to chafe under a condition of waste caused by careless mailing that has always been the bane of the United States postal service. Periodic and systematic campaigns have been waged against it, but the evil grows as fast as the rapidly increasing business of the postal service itself.

In another effort to stem the tide of this waste, to save money for the taxpayer and to turn back into constructive business channels the millions now lost through mistakes, Postmaster General New has designated next week, Feb. 18 to 25, as Better Mailing week, according to an announcement received by Postmaster William H. Zuehlke.

$1,740,000 WASTED
The postoffice department, or in the final analysis, the tax payer, pays an annual toll for the support of the malignant growth of careless mailing an amount that approximates $1,740,000.

Of late years, however, it has become more and more apparent that the department and the taxpayer are not the only sufferers from this evil; it is pointed out. Private business and private industry every year lose millions of dollars from the same cause which, strange to say, is in most part preventable.

The chief reason for this economic waste is careless addressing of mail, the depositing of letters and parcels in mail boxes, inadequate or incorrect addresses, an overwhelming majority of which comes from large patrons of the mails.

During Better Mailing week, Postmaster Zuehlke will seek the cooperation of the chamber of commerce, large business and industrial enterprises and the press, with a view to having antiquated mailing lists brought up to date and every check placed against the possibility of letters reaching the postoffice without accurate addresses.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

When Ruth and I entered our stateroom, dear little Marquise, and I took off my blouse Ruth exclaimed, "You've had your beads resting and how sensible to have had them knotted."

I answered, "Yes, I am so fond of them I do not intend to lose any more. I lost one at the restaurant. You remember."

"Do you know, Leslie," said Ruth, "that I sometimes think that in spite of your denials one of those waiters thought your beads were real and slipped one of them into his pocket."

It was a new idea to me. Little Marquise, and I immediately began to be afraid. What if Ruth's supposition were true, and the moment I heard her say it I knew it was true! I seemed to have an instinctive and prophetic feeling that I should hear from that pearl again.

Ruth took the beads and let them trickle through her fingers as she admired them.

"I almost envy you these beads, Leslie," she said, "and I should hate to be the owner of a real string and know that they could make imitations that looked as well as this. Did you ever have them appraised and do you know where Alice got them?"

I haven't any money, you know, left from the crash, but if I had I should be tempted to buy some like them."

Quickly I took them from her hands and slipped them into my bag. As I did so I inadvertently dropped the roll of bills on the floor.

"For goodness sake, Leslie, where did you get all that money?" Ruth said and then as quickly said, "I beg your pardon. It was none of my business, but seeing so much surprised me."

"I went into town today, Ruth, to sell some property to help Jack pay some debts that your husband got him into."

"Oh, I'm so sorry, Leslie. That was what I meant that evening when I tried to tell you to warn Jack against Harry."

"I did try, Ruth, and he wouldn't listen."

"Harry betrayed everyone including those who loved him best," said Ruth with a sigh.

"And now what are you going to do, Ruth?" I asked.

You see, little Marquise, from what Ruth had just told me, I knew she was penniless and I had not only taken her away from Walter Burke, but also put it out of her power to accept money from him.

TOMORROW: The secret letter continued—Leslie helps Ruth.

Adventures Of The Twins

Whitney Nose Tries A Stunt

Whitney Nose Squirrel was sitting on top of a fence in Dixie Land when the Twins came along. He was puffing his cheeks and sucking them in, and puffing his sides out and drawing them in in the most excited manner.

"I declare to goodness!" he panted. "I've tried and tried but I can't do it. I tried it off a tree and nearly broke my neck and I tried it off a bush and fell flat, and now I've been practicing off the top of this fence and it's the same thing over again. I've stubbed my nose and knocked out a tooth, and I'm bruised all over."

"What is it you've been trying to do?" asked Nick as soon as he could get a word in edgewise.

"Fly," said Whitney Nose, much as though he were saying, "eat" or "sleep" or "run" or anything in the world that wouldn't take your breath away.

"Fly!" exclaimed the Twins in one breath.

"Yes," declared Whitney Nose. "I was trying to fly. I saw another squirrel do it, so why shouldn't I? I saw him fly from the top of a great big high tree right down to the ground like a bird."

"Are you sure?" asked Nancy.

"Maybe it was a bird. Perhaps you didn't see right."

"Bird?" exclaimed Whitney Nose. "Well, if it was a bird, it was a queer one; it had whiskers and a big bushy tail that curled up over its back and gray fur all over it. No, sir! It wasn't a bird any more than I am, and I haven't got a feather on me."

At that very minute there was a "Chirp! Chirp! Chirp!" right over their heads and right before their astonished eyes a fat furry figure floated down gracefully from the branch of a tree and landed on the ground.

"There! Didn't I tell you?" cried Whitney Nose dancing around on two legs.

"We were just talking about you!" said Nancy breathlessly to the newcomer. "We never knew that squirrels could fly! Where did you learn? In a circus?"

"Why not? Nobody taught us," answered the curious fellow.

"Who is he?" asked Nick.

"My brothers and I. We always could."

"Fly up and let's see you do it again. Perhaps I could learn," begged Whitney Nose eagerly.

CLERK'S PAYMENT OF $891 TO PARDEE IS HELD ILLEGAL

County Board Hears Attorney General's Opinion On Contract Controversy

Litigation to recover $891.63 is expected of the county board of supervisors as a result of an opinion of the state attorney general read to the board Tuesday afternoon at the opening session of its annual meeting.

The opinion is in regard to the questioned legality of a claim of Arthur Pardee wherein he was paid that sum about a year ago, after a county order had been issued by John E. Hantschel, county clerk, and John Tracy, vice chairman of the county board. The question involved a number of intricate technicalities, which were gone into at considerable length by the attorney general. His ruling, however, was that the payment was unauthorized and not legal.

CLAIM IS PAID

The dispute arose out of a contract with the Blake Construction company for the erection of the county garage at $15,000. The construction company had bonded itself to pay for all labor and material met, but when the company was on the verge of bankruptcy it found itself unable to pay creditors' claims amounting to $519.50. The county board on April 12, 1922, agreed to pay the creditors' claims, but meanwhile Arthur Pardee who had been granted a judgment in municipal court against Blake had on Dec. 8, 1922, filed the judgment amounting to $891.63 with the county clerk. On April 14, 1923, he tendered his claim for the amount. This was paid after Mr. Hantschel had received an opinion from the district attorney and other lawyers as to the legality thereof.

The bonding company, represented by John Bailliet, which had bonded the construction company, refused to honor the claim of $891.63, as it held that the claim had nothing to do with the building contract.

At the last session of the county board, Chairman P. H. Ryan of the county-state road and bridge committee, introduced a resolution to start suit against Pardee to recover the amount. The board, holding its county officers free of guilt, decided to ask the attorney general as to what could be done about it.

NO FURTHER ADVICE

The attorney general, further than stating that the payment was illegal, refused to advise any legal process to recover the amount, since this is a private matter. He held that the county had not assumed liability for the creditors' claims on the garage construction until April 12, 1923, and that nothing had been done by the board at the time the judgment was filed. He also stated that a lien claim is superior to a judgment claim.

The opinion was received without comment by the members of the board, and Chairman George P. Fisher, referred it to the finance committee with instructions to report at this session.

In spite of the snow bound roads throughout the county, all but four of the 41 supervisors were present at the opening session.

OPEN MORE OF ROUTE 15

Among other business transacted at Tuesday afternoon's meeting, a resolution was passed by suspending the rules to have the highway department to keep a short strip of road open between the Davenport sanatorium superintendent and Supervisor W. J. Harwood who is a member of the board of trustees, introduced the resolution. For the sake of fire protection, medical service, grocery, freight and laundry service, it was considered necessary to keep highway 15 open as far as Kaukauna.

The annual report of Harry A. Shannon, clerk of court, showing receipts of $16,268.85 and disbursements of $11,548.10 was referred to the committee on general accounts.

A resolution advocating repeal of the automobile weight tax and favoring a 3-cent gasoline tax was received from the county board of Winnebago and referred to the next board of

Jill Will Pay Bill If Jack Hasn't The Coin

Much, yes, a great deal has been said in newspapers, in magazines, from public forums and on street corners of the passing of chivalry from the so-called stronger sex of the present era, but the extent to which the sex has dropped its protecting arm isn't generally realized. Most of us have had the embarrassing experience of taking our sweeties to an ice cream emporium or to a restaurant for a bite to eat and then discover we left our money in our other trousers. Those were ticklish and embarrassing moments when we broached the difficulty to our guest.

But things are different now. If you take your sweetie out to lunch or to a show or any place where money is required and you haven't the coin, what's the difference? She'll pay it.

EQUAL RIGHT TO PAY

Among the things the fair sex acquired when they won equal rights of suffrage is the equal right of paying for their pleasures, according to young women of Appleton. It is becoming less and less of a thing for a young woman to foot the bill after a quiet little dinner or a luncheon or maybe a midnight supper, say the girls.

Many, many of these little supper parties are "dutch treat" these days. The man pays for what he eats and the girl pays for her share or maybe they will total the bill and each pay half.

This new order is a boon to Lawrence college men. Many of these young men have barely enough money to get them through school and they have very little left to show for it at "good time." But their expense is cut in half when the girl pays half the bill and there are instances where college fellows have taken town girls out and the town girls paid all the bills.

TRAINS, STREET CARS BRING SOLONS HERE

Supervisors Drive To Nearest Railroad Or Interurban Station

With automobile traffic over county roads abandoned, even Dobbin seems to spend a good deal of his time in the stable. It was revealed Tuesday at the county board of supervisors were arriving to attend the February session.

Very few supervisors had driven into town by team and sled. Nearly all made the trip either by train or interurban, or drove as far as a railroad or interurban station and then came the rest of the way by rail.

Supervisor Frank Appleton of the town of Oneida, found that, although side roads in the eastern part of the county may be quite blocked with snow, he was able to make the trip to Kaukauna three times within the last week. He came in to Appleton last week, and on Monday he attended a meeting here of the committee on mothers pensions, going home again the same evening. Nevertheless, he said, the rural mail carrier of his route, had not made a single delivery all week.

WOMAN WANTS $50

Jennie C. Hays presented a claim for $50 as interest on road bonds she through error had failed to redeem. The money in the county treasury in the Citizens National bank drawing 3 per cent interest; therefore she asked 3 per cent interest on her $4,000 of highway bonds for five months. The claim was referred to the finance committee.

Miss Alice Otto, an Appleton blind student attending Lawrence college, asked for $300 annual support from the board in order that she might complete her education and become independent of further support later on.

At the conclusion of the board meeting, Supervisor Anton Janzen, after making a speech in which he said that in view of the coming spring election there might be several clunkers in the personnel of the board, invited all members to a dinner he would serve at 1 o'clock Thursday noon at Little Chute. He also invited them to inspect the new waterworks plant at Little Chute. The invitation was accepted unanimously.

ON THE SCREEN

ALICE BRADY AND CONRAD NAGEL IN "REDHEAD"

One of the most beautiful and realistic cabaret sets ever shown on the screen will be seen in Alice Brady's novelty picture, "Redhead," which comes to the New Bijou Theatre to day and Thursday.

It is not a reproduction of any particular cabaret, but comprises the outstanding features of several of the most noted cabarets in New York. This set took up the entire length of the studio and hundreds of extras were used in the filming.

The stage of the cabaret is a reproduction of a forest glade, with overhanging oak trees which form an arch for the bevy of beautiful dancing girls who support Miss Brady in an oriental dance. In the middle of the forest is a pool of sparkling water, studded with huge rocks which form a bridge over which Miss Brady in a gorgeous jeweled dancing costume crosses, and dances her way among the tables, at which the guests of the restaurant are dining. This stage scene is certainly a unique one, and enhanced by Miss Brady's exquisite dancing, is well worthy of notice.

NOTABLES CAST IN THE ETERNAL CITY

Barbara La Marr.
Lionel Barrymore.
Bert Lytell.
Richard Bennett.
Montagu Love.

Five names of international renown; five real stars of the silver sheet.

And all of them are appearing in a single picture, "The Eternal City," which will close its engagement to night at the Elitte Theatre.

Any one of these five names, appearing in the cast of a production would be sufficient to assure its success. It required considerable inducement to assemble them for one picture; to share the stellar honors with others.

The story, was that inducement, the fact that it would be directed by George Fitzmaurice and released by First National.

For years covetous producers had made vain efforts to obtain the picture rights to the story, for its powerful appeal was widespread. Mr. Fitzmaurice was the fortunate bidder, for the author was convinced that he was the best fitted to transfer the tale to the screen.

Filmed in Rome, the locale of the story, "The Eternal City" has been called the greatest hit of a decade.

DAREDEVIL JONES PERFORMS RECKLESS FEATS

Charles Jones is coming to town again in a new romantic thriller "Hell's Hole," which William Fox will offer at the Elitte theatre on Thursday for a 3 day run. Racing with breathless speed to a novel and exciting finish, Jones carries a role that affords him liberal opportunities for displaying the daring which is characteristic of his work.

Supporting the star are Ruth Clifford, leading lady; Maurice B. Flynn heavy; Kathleen Key, Hardy Kirkland, and Eugene Pallette. Emmett J. Flynn directed and Bernard McConville adapted the story, which is an original by George Scarborough.

PREPARE SAFETY FILM TO WARN AGAINST ACCIDENTS

Radio—In an effort to prevail upon the motoring public and pedestrians in general the need of greater care on the streets and highways, Sylvester McKee, undersheriff of Racine county, has prepared a film, entitled, "Safety on the Highways." This film has been shown in every theatre and school in the city and has met with the approval of Commerce and other civic organizations.

The filming and showing of the film was made possible through the efforts of the Milwaukee Electric company. It was laid out in this city. Dangers on the highways and how to avoid them, play a conspicuous part in McKee's novel safety picture. Leading motor publications throughout the country have devoted columns of space in commenting on this new method of bringing highway safety before the public and McKee has accordingly been besieged with proposals to bring the films to other cities.

PRESCRIPTION LIQUOR IS MEDICINE, NOT BOOZE

By Associated Press

Madison—Liquor obtained by prescription is not intoxicating liquor under terms of the state prohibition act but is medicine regardless of whether it is kept in a soft drink parlor, under a decision rendered Tuesday by the supreme court in the case of Fred Chaplain, Fond du Lac. Decision of the lower court was thereby reversed.

The association is making plans for a big year in aid to home builders.

PROBLEM OF PUBLIC HEALTH IS KEEPING SICK FROM HEALTHY

Public's Big Concern Is Keeping Contagion From Growing Children

Necessity of separating the sick from the well so far as possible was stressed by Dr. F. F. Bowman of the state board of health in an address on "Communicable Diseases and Their Control" at the luncheon of the Rotary club at Conway hotel Tuesday noon.

"I know of no branch of human knowledge that has made greater advances within the last 25 years than disease control. It has been so rapid and the changes came so fast it has not been followed in the way it should."

"Formerly disease control was not considered worth while and when a disease started it swept over a territory like a fire with no means of control and left a great amount of suffering and destruction. Years ago people were inclined to accept it as an act of God."

KNOWLEDGE SPREADS

"But more and more as knowledge has developed we have become more inquisitive and as a result of this inquisitiveness life today is more complex than it was. Public health has resulted and the knowledge that has come today has widened the question into a great many fields and has given rise to the question what is it all about?"

"We no longer look at unsanitary conditions as a cause of disease, and while we recognize that such conditions play an important part of disease they do not play the part we once thought."

"Unsanitary conditions themselves do not bring about disease, that is, disease does not originate in unsanitary conditions. More and more we look for the spread of it, called contagious diseases, to groups of individuals and particularly to infective individuals."

"And when these things come into our community we believe some infective individual has come into it and has passed the condition along and so it has spread. Even water and milk may act as the route over which disease may travel and back of these is the individual."

NEED SEGREGATION

"In our endeavor more and more to control communicable disease conditions it resolves itself into the problem of separating the sick from the well. I believe if we could effectively carry that out we could very materially reduce the insistency of disease."

"We are anxious to control these diseases because it is the young that suffer most. It is because of the minimal effects of the disease that we want to eliminate it as far as possible and care for and develop the individual."

"These conditions do not matter so much in the adult because that can't change him one way or the other. It is apt to get well and pass on. But ordinarily the adult is not left with terminal results like the child, too often with crippled limbs and incapacitated for life."

"As the twig is bent so the tree is inclined" and so we are particularly anxious to get the child before the disease control. It has been so rapid and the changes came so fast it has not been followed in the way it should."

"Formerly disease control was not considered worth while and when a disease started it swept over a territory like a fire with no means of control and left a great amount of suffering and destruction. Years ago people were inclined to accept it as an act of God."

MICHIGAN BATTLER ARRIVES FOR THURSDAY MENU

Austin Arrives For Battle With Sheik On Thursday Fight Card

Michigan Flash Will Do Only Road Work For Rest Of Time Up To Day Of Battle; Zwick In Pink Of Condition

After returning to Chicago from Milwaukee where he had put in three days of heavy training, Jimmy Austin Wednesday arrived in Appleton for his battle with Jack Zwick in Armory G. Thursday night.

Walter A. Ligninger, secretary of the State Athletic commission, states in a letter that he watched Jimmy go through his paces with Johnny Mendelsohn, and judging from the way he showed up at that time, he is in the pink. It is an unusual matter for Ligninger to make a remark of this kind about any fighter, and the fact that he made an exception speaks well for Austin's ability.

An agreement was reached between the state commission and the local club whereby Austin was allowed to complete his heavy training in Chicago. There are plenty of fights there able to open him for training where as Appleton would have a hard time to offer anyone able to furnish him with a good workout. Jimmy has left nothing undone to be in the best possible shape. He did not ease up in his training until Wednesday, and after his arrival here planned to carry on with his road work. He announces his weight as 146 pounds.

ZWICK ALL SET

Zwick is training faithfully every day, as he knows he will have to give the best he has in him to keep up with the Michigan flash. "If Austin thinks I won't be in the best of condition and able to hold him, he's due for the surprise of his life," he claims. Jack expresses himself. He claims he will be down to the required weight or under.

All the preliminary boys have been working hard and are reported to be all set and in good condition. No accidents have been reported so that the card will be shown unchanged. Some lively scraps are looked for.

All contents will be started by Dr. D. J. O'Connor at 8 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Mark Catlin will act as local representative of the state commission.

KIMBERLY CLAIMS 'MORAL' VICTORY

Kimberly State Graded school quintet Monday went down to a 15 to 1 defeat before a team of Appleton high school players. According to F. E. Hill, principal of the Kimberly school, his team showed superior playing ability although handicapped in weight by about 25 pounds per man. Further, Appleton substituted players about every three minutes, according to the principal, while Kimberly had but three substitutes to send in, two of them were eighth grade boys.

Principal Hillson closes his report as follows:

"Therefore, the people of Kimberly considering the superior playing ability of the locals, view the game as a victory wholeheartedly ours."

"Due to the limited freshman enrollment of nine, four of which are boys weighing about 90 pounds, we think that despite the score Kimberly won morally."

LAWRENCE PLANS SWIM PENTATHLON

In line with his policy to diversify sports in Lawrence college, Coach A. C. Denney has completed plans for a swimming and diving pentathlon to be held in the Appleton Y. M. C. A. tank next month. For several weeks every man in the school who could not swim had been obliged to take a course in that science, and in consequence it is expected a large lot of entries will result. The pentathlon will be open to all students at Lawrence. It will include dashes, distance and middle distance events, as well as diving.

GHARRITY MAY REGRET JUMPING MAJOR LEAGUE

Had Eddie Gharrity, catcher of the Washington Nationals, known that Donie Bush would not manage the team in 1924, he probably wouldn't have jumped to the Industrial League in the west that offers such fancy salaries to discontented major leaguers. Bush, as manager of the Nationals last year, was strong for Rudy Ruess as catcher, seldom giving Gharrity a chance. Eddie felt that he was being discriminated against and jumped at the chance to quit the majors.

COBB STRONG FOR EDDIE MANUSCH AS OUTFIELDER

Ty Cobb regards Outfielder Manusch as the best prospect that has broken into the majors in years. He looks for him to be one of the biggest stars in the game inside of three years. "Manusch has wonderful natural ability," says Cobb. "He needs only to learn how to make use of it to be one of the stars of the game. He's a great batsman right now and is sure to improve. For a big fellow he is very fast. He still has considerable to learn about fielding but is picking it up in one style."

BROTHERS STAR AT MICHIGAN IN TRACK EVENTS

"Reinke Boys" Are Out To Hang Up Records In Athletic Field

Ann Arbor, Mich.—"Watch out for the Reinke boys," is the big cry that is going out from the University of Michigan campus these days. Not in a basketball way, nor in baseball, but on the track. For Charles and Mike are out to hang up some real performances on the cinders this season.

This will be the first campaign that Michigan has had two Reinkes in active competition. Charles is a junior, Mike a sophomore. In 1923, the former was one of the stars of the otherwise sensational aggregation. In the half mile, with Charles in the running, Michigan was always pretty sure of a first or second place. A high jumper in high school, this chap took to middle distance activities easily on a mile. And he made good, too.

Mike is a miler. And from past performances stands an excellent chance of doing as well in his favorite events as his brother has done in the 880-yard brush. He appears to have the stuff to make a name for himself. All he needs is more experience.

Unless predictions go wrong, the Maize and Blue's prospects to gain another Western Conference championship are greatly enhanced by the ability of the pair on the cinders—Charles in the half and Mike in the mile run.

Blues Look For Hard Fight With Carroll

One of the hardest games on the Lawrence basketball schedule is due Friday in Armory G when Carroll college of Waukesha invades this city for a return contest. Lawrence defeated the Carrollites by two points in an overtime battle at Waukesha some weeks ago, and the invaders are out for revenge this time.

Last year the Waukesha collegians copped second place in the Little Five conference, with Beloit at the top. The same men who accomplished that feat are back again this year. In addition to Kuranz, a star who has been out for a year but now has returned to strengthen the quintet. Furthermore a number of recruits have been doing promising work in practice drills, among them Fred Willardson of Neenah and Harold Blahnk of Green Bay. Recently Carroll

SEVEN QUINTETS IN BIG TEN SCRAMBLE FOR LEAD IN CAGING

Purdue Tied For First With Chicago Maroons After Beating Northwestern

Chicago, Ill.—A free for all scramble is ahead in the home stretch of the race for the Western conference basketball title. Seven out of the ten teams are still in the running, all of them facing possible late season upsets and any one capable of spurning into the lead.

Purdue's victory Tuesday night over Northwestern tied the Boilermakers with the Chicago Maroons. Both teams have won five games and lost one.

The Wisconsin went to second place, Indiana took third, with Michigan fourth, Ohio State fifth and Illinois sixth on a percentage basis, counting the two first teams as one in their position. All of these teams are still strong. All of these teams are still strong. All of these teams are still strong.

Four important games on Saturday may put a new complexion on the situation. Wisconsin, with one defeat registered against her, swings into action against Illinois at Madison. Chicago meets the much defeated Iowa five, out to stage a comeback, while Ohio plays Indiana at Columbus.

Hump Couldn't Buy Groceries With Love Pats

One of the stars of the Cleveland professional football eleven last year was Hump Tanner, flashy Centre College backfield man.

Cleveland will have another pro football team next fall, but Tanner probably won't be on the squad.

Tanner is a sarcastic young gent. By way of making him feel good one day Sammy Deutsch, backer of the team, smiled at Tanner and remarked: "I've been pretty good to you, haven't I, Hump?"

"You sure have," replied the player. "You've given me lumbago from patting me on the back so much."

Caging Moguls Plan District Tournament In Appleton Next March

Chief Competitors Expected To Be Appleton, Menasha, West Green Bay, Kaukauna and Tigerton High School Quints

Preparations for the district championship basketball tournament, scheduled to begin here on Mar. 13, were set underway Tuesday when members of the "L" club at Lawrence met to formulate plans for the house and entertainment of members of the various teams participating in the meet. As in previous years, it is planned to have the fraternity houses take up the visitors. Various entertainments have been planned by the schools of the district to advertise their towns during the tourney so that the period between Mar. 13 and 15, inclusive will be a busy one in Appleton.

Coach A. C. Denney of Lawrence has been named district manager this year, and as such has received reports on the progress and success of the several teams. Tigerton has won 12 straight games and appears to have the strongest team in many years. Clintonville is in the midst of a slump, and unless its team buckles up considerably, it is due to land at the tailend of the district.

EXPECT CLOSE DEBATE

It is expected that the chief competitors will be Appleton, West Green Bay, Menasha, Kaukauna and Tigerton, and these teams look as though they would stage a close series.

Last year Appleton landed at the top of the heap when it defeated Clintonville. Now Holstein and Menasha fought for third place, and the former won. The attendance at that time was the largest ever seen in Armory G, but it is expected the record will be broken this year. Plans have been made to bring the bleachers from the Lawrence football field to the armory, and the banks of seats will extend from the side lines to the bottom of the balcony for the full length of the floor on both sides.

Eight of the best teams in the district will compete here, and games will be played every afternoon and evening of the three days.

Season tickets probably will be offered at reduced rates when the seat sale begins.

LUTHERAN LADIES FIRST AT OSHKOSH

Keglers of the St. Paul Lutheran ladies team who last Sunday invaded Oshkosh to bowl in the Lutheran tourney there, came away with first honors. The Appleton A. A. L. men's team which copped second place several weeks ago still occupies that position, and as the tourney ends next Sunday with but three or four more teams to roll, it is probable the local keglers will take a goodly share of prize money.

Several of the A. A. L. bowlers have been doing very creditable work since the opening of the season. One of the best is J. Behnke, Jr., who holds an average of 194. He is one of the youngest bowlers of the association, but leads most of his seniors. His game has been consistent from the beginning, and if he keeps on he probably will make his mark among state pinmasters.

BENTLEY IN GOOD SHAPE AS WAIST LINE RECEDES

Too much weight kept Jack Bentley from doing good work with the Giants last spring. He reported weighing well over 200 and got a late start. He has profited thereby as he now weighs only 188.

July Dates For American Open Seem Probable

The national open golf championship will be decided over the Oakland Hills course in Detroit next year, and it is probable that the dates will be July 10 and 11. The British open will be held at Hoylake June 25 and 26. Several American topnotchers, including Gene Sarazen, Jim Barnes and Walter Hagen, are going abroad for the event. Naturally they wish to be back in time to participate in the American open. That's why the July dates seem probable. At first it was suggested that the tournament dates be set for June 26 and 27.

AFTER MINOR STARS

The securing of Pitcher Jean from Louisville is only one of the many deals the New York Giants hope to make for minor league star pitchers.

Notice to Stockholders

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eagle Mfg. Co., Appleton, Wisconsin will be held at the office of the company on Tuesday, Feb. 19 at 3 p. m. for the election of the board of directors for the ensuing year and transaction of such other business as may come before such meeting.

Fred Peterson, Secretary.

POPULARITY isn't luck—there is no royal road to the spotlight. Popularity, today, means "delivering the goods!"

make good! There are loads of ordinary cigarettes—smokers want something better!

Better quality—proved by better taste—that's why men are turning by thousands from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

AKRON IS TRYING TO EXIST WITHOUT ITS STREET CARS

Automobiles Take Some To Work, Others Walk—Say Test Will Fail

Akron, O.—Can an American city of 200,000 persons get along without street cars?

Akron is finding out.

Mayor D. C. Rybolt was elected on a promise he would retain a 5 cent fare.

The traction company announced it would have to quit operating unless granted permission to increase its fares from 5 to 7 cents.

"They quit," said the mayor. And the company did.

So 225 automobiles, including 100 Fords sent from Detroit on the request of H. S. Firestone, Akron tire man were drafted into service.

HEALTHFUL ANYWAY
Strange looking autos came in from everywhere, responding to Rybolt's call for help.

Men were accosted on the street with the question: "Can you drive an auto?" and if they could, were given a job at the wheel of a bus.

"Keep half of what you take in," they were told.

Half of the town walked.

The city health officer issued a statement assuring the citizens that "walking is a healthful habit."

There are rumors that Henry Ford and H. S. Firestone are interested in making the experiment a success.

But the Akronites refuse to look upon the situation as anything but a good joke.

"When it gets cold again," he says, "we'll be glad to draw out the street cars, even at 7 cents."

Petitions are being circulated by the 800 street car employees asking the mayor to compromise. Political wiseacs say he will have to give in.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Jack Zwick and Jimmy Austin of Muskegon headline Thursday night's fistic card in Appleton. These boys are scheduled to go ten rounds at 148 pounds. Austin has quite a rep as a milt swinger in the Wolverine state.

These other good ring engagements are on the card at Armory.

Bill Lathrop, the hurling ace, who kept Appleton up close to the top in the State league pennant chase last season, has signed a full time contract with the Toledo team.

Roy Conley will have to lie idle for a few weeks due to an injury he received in a recent scrap out west. Conley took a sliding header poke at his opponent and a broken thumb resulted. This injured member also cost the "Fighting Parson" the scrap as he was forced to leave the ring.

Jimmy Nuss is heard from again. This time the De Pere boy won a state decum from Jack Schaeffer of Omaha in a Des Moines ring. Schaeffer is rated as a pretty good boy with the gloves and the win of Nuss to boost Jimmy's fistic stock quite a peg upwards.

Dan Rumer has it that Guy Sundt, the Ripon football coach, is seeking a change of residence. Sundt, who is a former Wisconsin football hero, has been down in Madison talking things over with the Badger authorities. It is said that Jack Ryan wants Sundt as freshman piquester mentor.

Messrs. McCloskey and Konetchy, baseball promoters, who attempted to form a Class D league down LaCrosse way have given up their task as a bad job. The proposed organization meeting drew but a corporate guard force of 100 other cities appeared very interesting.

Another loop looms in the making. Bresnahan, who managed the Marinette-Menominee Twins in the State wheel last season, is trying to get some of the upper Michigan towns lined up. Escanaba and several of the other towns in that neck of the woods are said to be in favor of the project.

Shesbogan has come out flat footed in its stand against professional baseball. The town is perfectly satisfied with the Sunday and holiday variety. From the looks of things, the Green Bay ultimatum for organized ball will get a cold shoulder at the State league conference.

over the balance on Jan. 1, according to the monthly financial statement issued by State Treasurer Solomon Levitan. Receipts during January amounted to $3,719,707, while disbursements totaled $2,354,484, the revenue shows.

The balances in important funds at the beginning of February included the following: General fund, $5,978,688; school fund, $8,909; university fund income, $325,442; normal school fund, $27,277; service recognition fund, $204,357; insurance fund, $53,750; teachers' insurance and retirement fund, $19,012; educational fund, $601,701.

This action was taken Wednesday morning by the county board of supervisors upon recommendation of the finance committee submitted by Chairman William Beck. CLOSE KAUKAUNA RAILROAD SHOPS BY END OF 1925

80 More Men Will Be Thrown Out Of Employment, Company Announces

Chicago and Northwestern railroad shops, long one of the chief sources of employment at Kaukauna, will be gradually closed down until by the end of 1925 only the remnants of the once-extensive works will remain, according to information received by Frank Slater, master mechanic at the shops, who returned Tuesday from Chicago. About 80 more men will be thrown out of work within the next year, it was said.

Only the roundhouse, the light repair shop and storehouse will be retained, giving employment to sixty or sixty-five men. The boiler shop, machinework and blacksmith shop will be closed.

The closing will be gradual, as work is taken to other repair shops. Machinery and buildings at Kaukauna no longer are adequate to take care of the railroad's heavy work, it was said by the railroad company as the reason for the closing.

Kaukauna is the chief distribution point for railway materials on the Chicago division and therefore the storehouse will be retained. Light
